Project: Team Roster

User interface

Operation

- This application lets the user enter the batting lineup for a baseball or softball team.

- To display the team name in the roster, the user can enter a team name and click the Set button.

- To enter a player, the user can enter the player's name in the text field, select the member's position from the drop-down list, and click the Add button.

- If the user clicks the Reset button, the roster and form fields are cleared.

Specifications

- When this application starts or is reset, move the focus to the Team Name field.

- When the user sets the team name, move the focus to the Add Member field.

- When the user adds a team member, clear the Add Member field and move the focus back to that field.

- When the user adds a team member, remove the position from the drop-down list. For example, in the screen shot above, this application should remove the Third Base position after Palmore is added to the roster.
